Hobbies

DRAWING

- Since young I've always enjoyed picking up any art medium and pieces of rough papers to draw until I'm worn out. During my primary and secondary school days, I can be found doodling on my textbooks. My mom signed me up for art lessons at a neighborhood resident's committee centre in order to develop and hone my skills in drawing and coloring with oil pastels. I'm interested in fashion designing of any themes or styles.

BALLOON SCULPTING

- A hobby turned into business. After having an interest in balloon sculpting, I begin improving my skills by attending workshops held in Singapore and also attempt to create my own designs. Currently, I'm training myself to create whatever is shown in a picture rather than purchasing instructions/manuals. Furthermore, when there is a shortage of a certain color/size, I've to be quick and create alternatives on the spot to avoid disappointment.

READING

- One of my favorite past times since young is to read books that interests me. I will be buried in the pages of a book and be immersed into the story until I've finished reading the entire book. I prefer genres such as romance, fantasy, sci-fi and a little thrilling horror.

WRITING

- Due to my love for reading, I've always wanted to be an author. However, I realized that I would instead love to write freely and not publish anything. The books that I usually read are my reference materials and sources of inspiration to help build my characters and the plot. Thus, reading and writing goes hand in hand.
